Expansion of Readers in Motion

Kindergarteners and NOW 1st Graders! ... will experience live animal encounters this year

Thanks to the Children's Board of Hillsborough County, 1st graders from Oak Grove Elementary, as well as Kindergarteners will experience the joy of Readers in Motion.

This wildly successful 5-year old program was formerly called Lowry Park Neighborhood Initiative. As the program has solidified its effective best practices, we saw that it has the opportunity to grow beyond just the Lowry Park neighborhood so we launched our new program name...

Readers in Motion

The new name better describes the success our kids have in our program. They go from learning their letters to passionate, engaged reading lovers!

So what's the magic formula?

Readers in Motion combines ALL these elements:

- In-class Foster Grandparent Volunteer Mentor/Tutor who commits to serve at least 15 hours per WEEK with the kids IN THE CLASSROOM. The teacher identifies the most challenged students and supervises the dosage of assistance each child receives.
- Zoo-To-School visits from Tampa's Lowry Park Zoo. The Zoo's animal education experts bring LIVE ANIMALS to the school to engage the children in the natural sciences.

- Family Fun Ed-Zoo-Cation Nights bring the students' whole family including parents and siblings to Tampa's Lowry Park Zoo to share in activities that bring the natural sciences to life.
- Reading Challenges provide incentives and route to continue the learning at home with the family. Kids are able to utilize the myON digital reading environment that's available to all Hillsborough County School children for free.

From Board Chair Herma White...

It's a relief to report that the staff and volunteers came through Hurricane Irma with relatively little damage or inconvenience. As a silver lining in this potentially devastating storm, I've been inspired and impressed with our community's ability to come together to help one another no matter their age, gender, race, income level or anything else. We live in a beautiful place and that includes our generous neighbors.

We are here to continue this spirit of generosity. A time like this is a perfect example of why our seniors need inclusion and participation from the community. Our mission is more important than ever: to engage people in volunteerism, particularly those ages 55+, to help children succeed and elders remain independent. This is our call to the community to come out and give. Here are some of the ways:

1. VOLUNTEER – give your time for our community. You are the most valuable resource in Tampa Bay. Our website seniorsinservice.org has volunteer opportunities available right now, all over. Help with kids, seniors, food pantries, senior centers, veterans. We have an opportunity that will feed your soul.
2. DONATE – every little bit helps when you give. Our organization uses the leverage of hundreds of volunteers to make the biggest impact possible with 93% of each dollar donated going directly to services. Your donation will have a big impact.
3. SPREAD THE WORD – be an advocate for Seniors in Service. Share with your friends, family, and co-workers the ways Seniors in Service tutors and mentors children in need IN the classroom, and how we provide companionship and respite in the homes of frail low-income seniors. Our precious young and vulnerable elders need Seniors in Service to help them succeed in school and in life, and to have quality of life and the ability to live independently.

CEO Corner

Dear Friends – I am very happy and excited to announce our launch of Operation: Veteran Connect! Thanks to your support, Seniors in Service is successfully engaging volunteers 55 years old and older to meet many needs in our Tampa Bay community. As you may know, we have been helping veterans at the James A Haley V.A. Hospital and throughout our Hillsborough County for decades. Through your support and the support of Volunteer Florida, as of August 1st, Seniors in Service has extended our impact to those who have dedicated themselves through military service – our veterans.

Seniors in Service has partnered with the James Haley VA Hospital & its community-based clinics as part of a new national Pilot - one of only 18 - promoting Whole Health to our veterans. Through this innovative program Seniors in Service will recruit & train AmeriCorps members to support the Whole Health System by serving as Outreach Educators, My HealtheVet Specialists, & as Volunteer Engagement Specialists. AmeriCorps members will connect veterans to available resources for wellness to live life to the fullest!

Many thanks to you for making this program possible! For more information, please call or email Paige Erwin at 813-932-5228, x292, or perwin@seniorsinservice.org. - Tammy

Hurricane Irma Brought Out the Best

While our mission is not disaster-oriented, our vibrant seniors served in special ways. Most of our volunteers serve in long-term capacities that support our community day-in and day-out. During Hurricane Irma, our volunteers called their service sites, clients, schools, teachers, families, etc. Even while their own power was out, they were reaching out to help and comfort the people they serve.

Our newest staffers have some kind words for Seniors in Service...

Erin Hamilton - Erin heard about Seniors in Service from our accountant who was relocating. Just from the stories from her colleague, Erin KNEW she wanted to work here. After hearing passionate volunteers Ray Petren and Ruby Shannon speak at our Pinellas Bridging Generations Luncheon in April, she was totally hooked! And Erin will be bringing us another Seniors in Service munchkin in February!

Ivelisse Zambrano - being strongly driven by her faith, “E-vie” says she was drawn here by Glarisol’s passion for how the volunteers help the community. She enjoys work that is so focused on people. Her previous jobs in the military and law enforcement were more black-and-white. She is an adventurer who believes it’s important to look for the good, even in tragedy.

Almeka Parks - having only lived in Florida for a year now, Almeka had no idea her love of people, inability to sit still and propensity for community involvement would guide her here. When the topic of seniors kept popping up in various areas of her life she knew this was a good fit. And she says running her own program with RSVP is a treat! She wants her volunteers to know she has a huge sense of humor, so feel free to make her laugh!

Lorena Mielke - Leaving her 1-year old son to return to work meant that the job HAD to be meaningful. Lorena loves that her program also involves the young parents of her volunteers’ students. She’s also excited to use her Spanish professionally, in addition to the conversational Spanish she’s already comfortable using.
